FIRST BIG ONE — This chartered DC-3 landed Sunday at Cameron Airport. Mayor Bassel Wilson and Councilman John Hays visited with the pilots, who flew the Pan-Am plane in from New Orleans. Officials of Shell

Oil Co. were said to have chartered the plane. Pilots said there was ample room for this size plane and similar size jet service to land and take off.

Daylight Saving 'Tick' State Awaits DST

DARK MORN,
LIGHT NIGHT
FOR TEXANS

Milam County residents will adjust to their first summer of Daylight Saving Time beginning 2 a.m. Sunday, April 29, when Texas advances clocks one hour along with most of the states across the country.

Reaction to the daylight saving plan passed this year by the state legislature ranges from approval in the metropolitan areas to confusion in the farm dominated sections of the state.

In Cameron some residents expressed alarm at the change, fear that it would affect farm oriented businesses, but most agreed that after the first few days of long evenings they would be adjusted to the summer time schedule.

Clocks will be pushed ahead one hour Sunday for an estimated 180 million Americans in 46 states.

The Texas legislature complied with a law passed by Congress directing all states - except those in which legislatures voted exemption - to observe Daylight Saving Time from 2 a.m. the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. the last Sunday in October. Hawaii and Kentucky will observe Standard Time.

Indiana legislators decreed that one clock in the Capitol and in each courthouse or city hall will be marked "official time" in compliance with the federal act, but leaves residents free to observe whatever time is set by local ordinance.

In Michigan a petition drive was underway for a referendum in order to put the question of Daylight Saving Time before the voters. At present a suit has been filed to block the petition.

Cow, Volkswagon Collide On US 190

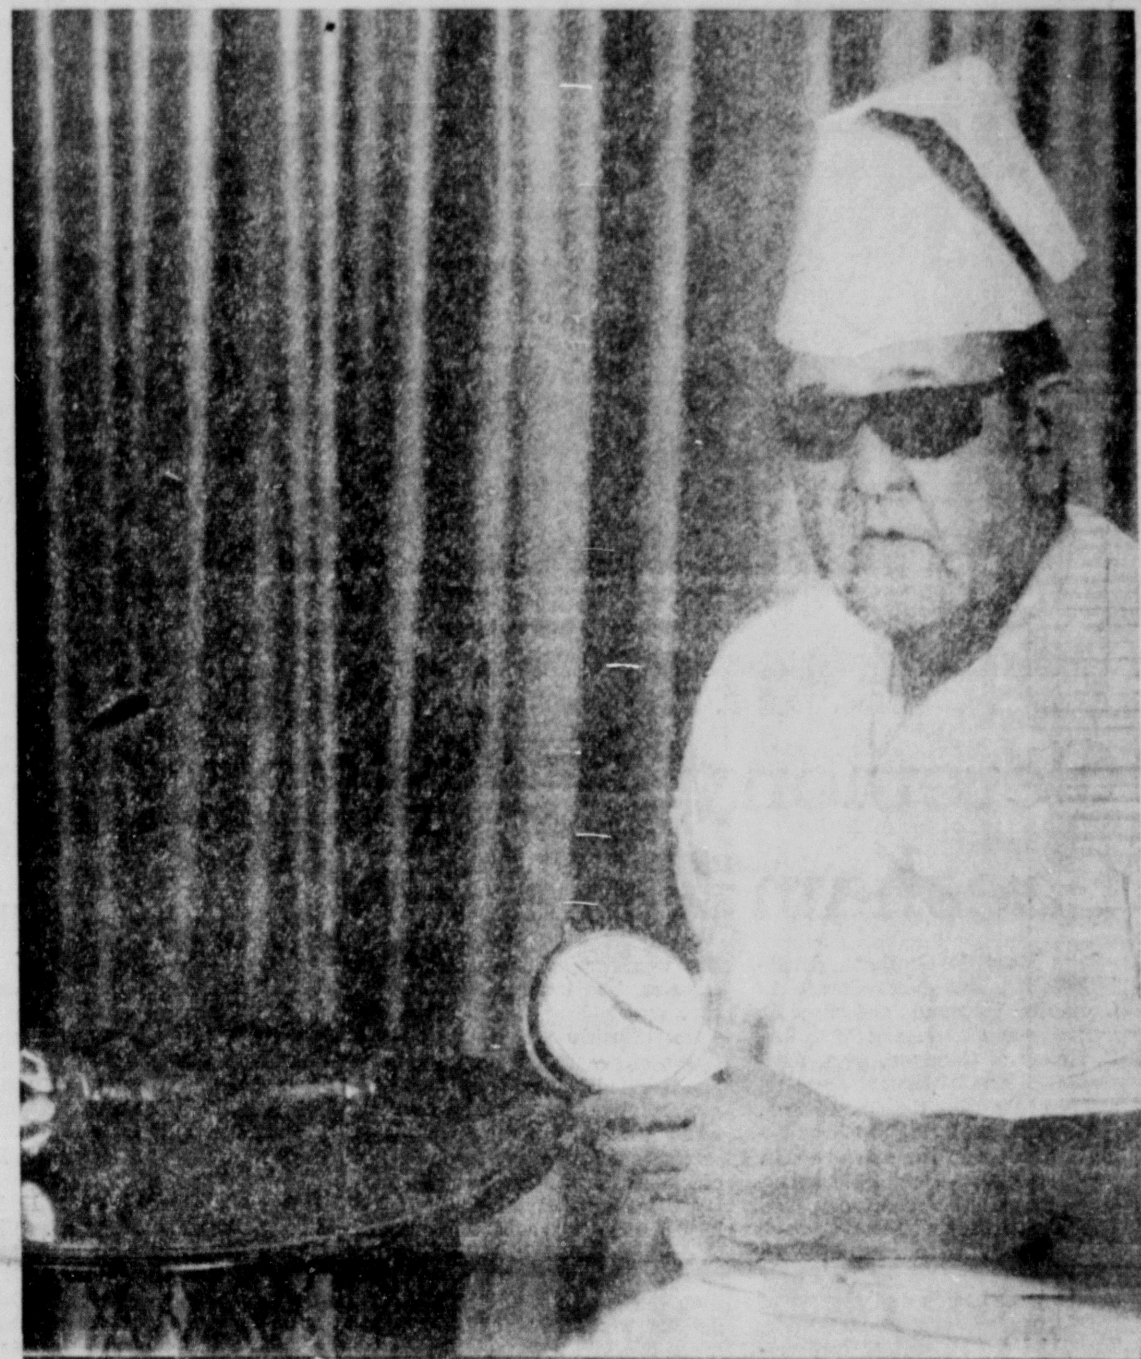

An accident on US 190 near Branchville injured the driver of a Volkswagon and caused about $600 damage to his car last week.

Ted Thomas of Killen driving a 1966 Volkswagon collided with a cow on the highway about 8:05 p.m. April 18. Thomas was taken to the Hearne hospital where he was treated for lacerations, according to Highway Patrolman Milton Wright, investigating officer.

Council Interviews Police Applicants

City councilmen reviewed applications for Cameron police chief at a called meeting Friday evening and were interviewing applicants for the job in another called meeting Wednesday night.

Applications were also being received for an additional patrolman and dispatcher for the police department.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME — The Herald's George Jones thinks he'll need sun glasses when he goes to bed and a flashlight when he arises after midnight Sunday. That's when clocks are advanced an hour "to save daylight." It will be a first for Texans like George. The whole country goes on daylight time with the change. Clocks will be set back in the fall.

Historical Society Elects Officers

A Milam County Historical Association was officially formed in a meeting at Cameron Public Library Sunday and officers for the group were elected.

Miss Mary Belle Batte will be chairman, Tom Underwood of Rockdale, vice chairman; Mrs. Bob Bruder of Gause, secretary-treasurer; and Ada Margaret Smith, reporter.

Miss Batte also serves as chairman of the Milam County Historical Survey Committee and will coordinate activities of the two groups. She said possible projects would include working with the Chamber of Commerce Tourism committee to place a log cabin in the City Park at Cameron and marking or partially restoring the fort at Old Nashville.

She said the main purpose of the organization would be to share information on Texas and Milam County history.

Historic items displayed and described at the meeting Sunday included books, Bibles, guns and spears. A picture of the first school bus in Texas was shown by H. H. Pruitt. He said the horse-drawn 'bus' was used by the Branchville school and was the first known official school bus in the state.

The next meeting date for the Association will be 3 p.m. May 21 at the Rockdale State Bank.

Cameron Man In US 190 Accident Injuring 2 Drivers

A collision involving three vehicles on Highway 190 near Temple about 8 p.m. Friday injured two pedestrians, one critically.

Cameron Highway Patrolman Milton Wright said the accident involving James Mason Chapman, 53, of Temple; Paulino Veracruz, 28, of Rogers; and William Ester Miller of Cameron was still under investigation.

An early report said Chapman and Veracruz apparently were standing between their parked trucks on the shoulder of Highway 190 when the first truck was struck by a vehicle driven by Miller. Investigating officers said the trucks were parked on the side of the road because of mechanical difficulty with one of the trucks.

Chapman remained in critical condition Wednesday at Scott and White Hospital and Veracruz was listed in satisfactory condition.

Committee Clears Drink Bill, 10-7; Schiller Votes No

Rep. Milton J. Schiller, of Cameron, was one of seven members of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Tuesday voting against approval of a bill to legalize liquor by the drink.

The bill gained 10 to 7 approval to clear the committee. It included a local option feature which would reduce annual state license to $100 for fraternal and veterans clubs operating for at least five years and certified by the county judge to be non-profit and basically benevolent in function.

The bill has strong support from Gov. John Connally. House sponsors are led by Reps. Dick McKissack and John Field, both of Dallas.

Four of the 21-member committee were absent when the vote was taken. They were Reps. Gene Fendren of Taylor, Glenn Johnson of Temple, John Wright of Grand Prairie, and Hudson Moyer of Amarillo.

City committee representation favored the bill. They were: Committee chairman Ben Atwell, of Dallas; Rep. Ronald Bridges, Corpus Christi; Don Hand, San Antonio; J. E. Johnson, Ira Kohler and Glenn Vickery, all of Houston; Frank Cahoon, Midland; R. H. Cory, Victoria; James Nugent, Kerrville; and W. C. Sherman, Fort Worth.

Voting against were: Rep. John Allen, Longview; Leroy J. Wieting, Portland; Will L. Smith, Beaumont; Gerhardt A. Schulte Jr., San Marcos; Reed Quilliam Jr., Lubbock; Bob Salter, Gatesville; and Rep. Schiller.

Ed Magre Heads Literacy Council

Ed Magre, Cameron attorney, has been named chairman of the Milam County Literacy Council, which met last week at Cameron Public Library.

He called for plans for another teacher training session in May. Baylor Literacy Council is being contacted for assistance.

Mrs. James Kahler was named vice-chairman and Mrs. Magre secretary-treasurer. Miss Mildred Thornton was named chairman of teacher recruitment.

With F.M.L.

The modern incongruity of greater opportunity at younger age and quicker adolescence for the older man, still healthy, is obvious.

This bit of doggerel, "The Old Age Problem," may sum up:

In savage tribes where skulls are thick And primal passions rage, They have a system, sure and quick

To cure the blight of age.

For when a native's youth has fled And years have sapped his vim, They simply knock him on the head And put an end to him.

But we— in this enlightened age— Are built of sterner stuff, And so we look with righteous rage

On deeds so harsh and rough.

For when a man grows old and gray, And weak and short of breath, We simply take his job away And let him starve to death!

—Uvalde Bulletin 108-108-108

Cameron's Rotary Interact Club, of Yoe High School, had representation at a two-day conference for the six District 587 clubs in Waco.

President Don Manley and District Lt-Governor Jack McKinney and Dennis Rose, Hill Stroup and Steve Smith helped Cameron make the scene.

Cameron's YHS club, first in Texas, is among 4A high schools Waco High, Richfield, Ausin High, Cleburne and Waxahachie High.

It is easily the smallest school with the most members, proportionally, in the area from Houston to Dallas.

Hunt Interests Leasing In Milam

By Lloyd Albertson

Leasing of acreage is the only oil activity presently under way in Milam County, which earlier this year saw several wildcats drilled in the south and east sections of the county.

The H. L. Hunt interests, of Dallas, are putting together a sizeable lease block in south Milam near the Burleson and Lee county lines, according to leases recently filed for record.

The leases are taken by W. H. Hunt, Margaret Hunt Trust Estate and Lamar Hunt.

They include tracts of land in the David Houston League, James A. Prewitt Survey, W. W. Hill League, William Pharriss Survey, James Robertson Survey, Daniel Walker and James H. Smith Leagues, John B. Harvey Survey and the Eliza Sante Survey in Burleson County.

The Hunt leases are several miles west of the Shell Oil Company's lease block on which three Smackover deep wildcats have been drilled in the past three years.

CCC Will Host First Rockdale - Cameron Day

Cameron Country Club will host the first annual "Cameron-Rockdale Country Club Day" Saturday, April 29, with an expected 300 participating in activities scheduled during the day and evening.

A proclamation by Mayor Bassel Wilson has declared the day dedicated to a continuing step in mutual understanding and further development of long standing bicity friendship.

Events planned for members of both clubs include a mens golf tournament, bridge and golf for women, swimming, buffet barbecue dinner and an informal patio dance.

Alcoa has donated a trophy to be awarded the winning team in the mens golf tournament. The trophy will be engraved each year showing the club winner and name of the country club medalist champion and will be displayed at the winning team's club until the following year's joint country club day.

A prize for the top woman golfer of the day will be given by the Cameron Women's Golf Association Saturday.

The womens bridge tournament is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. in the club house.

The buffet barbecue dinner will be served from 6 to 8:30 p.m. and an informal patio dance will begin at 8 p.m. Golf and bridge awards will be presented at the dance. Decorations for the club house and patio will follow a garden theme. Paper flowers in painted clay pots will decorate the ball room for the bridge tournament and in the evening will center pastel clothed tables on the patio. Hanging lanterns will light the patio and candlelight will outline the seating area for the dinner-dance. Also carrying out the garden theme will be large paper flowers lining the club house wall along the patio.

Planners for the Cameron-Rockdale Day initiated the idea to promote understanding and friendship between the clubs and towns and anticipate that it will be a popular event each year.

Tickets are available at both the Rockdale and Cameron clubs.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Right to Quit

Quitting a job may be costly in two ways: not only in terms of wages, but also in terms of unemployment insurance.

For our system of unemployment insurance is designed primarily to help the man who is laid off, not the man who quits. In most cases, the man who quits is disqualified—for a certain period—from collecting any benefits.

But what if you quit not because you don't want to work but because conditions on the job have exchange. Freddie L. Townsend collected a third in the 800, James R. Aycox was fifth in the one mile run and Eddie L. Johnson was fifth in the shot put.

become intolerable?

That does make a difference. In such circumstances, the law recognizes a kind of "right to quit"—without affecting your claim to compensation. You are then entitled to the same benefits as the person who has been laid off.

Consider this situation: A stenographer had an office manager who made her life miserable. Over a period of months, he lashed her with insults and bullied her with profanity.

When she finally quit and claimed unemployment benefits, the company demurred:

"Unemployment insurance does not cover a case like this. After all, the young lady wasn't fired. She is unemployed only because she herself chose to be unemployed."

But the court held she was indeed entitled to collect, since her quitting was not—in any fair sense—a matter of choice at all.

In another case, a veteran employee's wages, already at a modest level, were suddenly slashed 40 per cent in a company reorganization. In these circumstances, too, the court held he had a right to quit without being disqualified for unemployment compensation.

On the other hand, you cannot collect benefits if the grievance that makes you quit is relatively minor. Thus:

Compensation was denied to a man who quit because he resented the friendly kidding he got from fellow workmen. The court decided he was out of work not because he was too badly treated but because he was too easily offended.

Once a near-sighted truck driver, after being involved in three accidents, was told by his employer to get glasses.

"I'd rather quit," he replied—and he did quit.

But here too, unemployment benefits were denied. To compensate individuals who quit so frivolously, the court felt, would put a burden on the unemployment insurance system that it was never meant to carry.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON D.C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

Hanoi's Terms

May I suggest Hanoi's term "interlocutor" is a western equivalent for the oriental face saving "go between." It avoids legal recognition of the U.S. position in South Vietnam. I suggest a counter offer that Saigon and the Viet Cong both be present at a conference as "observers" and that they agree on a third party mediator to arrange for a cease fire and withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese forces. Simultaneously or subsequently Hanoi and Washington could sit in as observers while Saigon and the Viet Cong seek to reach agreement on their respective roles in the South Vietnamese Government, to avoid each one having to recognize the other's position and the de jure government.

C. H. P.
Claremont, Cal.
Dear Mr. P.:
Your telegram commented upon the possible implications of Hanoi's use of the term "interlocutor" in recently referring to the National Liberation Front.

As you know, we are constantly analyzing all statements by Hanoi, the Front, and other interested parties to the conflict for any signs of an interest in finding an acceptable formula which would permit talks to begin. We are also exploring all avenues to probe Hanoi's intentions. Up to now, however, Hanoi has constantly coupled the use of the term "interlocutor" with other phases making clear that in Hanoi's view the National Liberation Front must still be recognized as the sole genuine representative of the South Vietnamese people before there can be any prospect of talks.

India's Handicrafts

I am a citizen of India and have lived in the U.S. for two years. America has been kind to the Indians, which makes me come up with suggestions. Indian labour suffers the maximum poverty. The female labour is at a tremendous disadvantage, because women are not permitted to step out of their house. If women have some share in increasing the home finance, they would not be treated as they are presently.

Embroidered articles, wooden carvings, handmade tile-bits can be made by women at their home. If these can be exported out of the country and a cheap market found here, we can certainly help the economy. Americans like Indian articles and handmade goods.

I hope you'll communicate with me as to what you think of my ideas. I pray that you would help in any mode that you may think best.

A. S.
Baltimore, Md.

Dear Miss S.:
Your belief that women can achieve a greater degree of dignity and independence through contributing to the income of their families is sound. Your plan for achieving this by organizing women to produce handicrafts for export is most interesting.

The Government of India and the various state governments have done a great deal of work in organizing and improving the production and marketing of Indian handicrafts. The All-India Handicrafts Board, Willingdon Crescent, New Delhi-1, has been established to advise the Indian Government on the production, design, and marketing, both in India and abroad, of Indian handicrafts. We believe that the most effective way for you to pursue your interest in the Indian handicraft industry would be to communicate directly with this Board.

Charles Maddox Jr. Chosen For Summer Program At Kansas U.

Charles Maddox Jr., Cameron high school junior, has been notified that he has been chosen for the summer Science and Mathematics program at the University of Kansas.

Supported by the National Science Foundation, the summer program is for high-ability secondary school students, according to Delbert M. Shankel, director of the University's program.

Charles Maddox Jr.

Charles was chosen from approximately 800 applicants from all over the United States and from countries abroad. He is the first student from Cameron to receive recognition and science-training program appointments in several years.

Clayton Riddlesperger, mathematics instructor, said, "Charles is a very capable and deserving student. We are all proud of him and know he will do a fine job of representing Yoe High School and Cameron at Kansas University."

Academic record and teachers' recommendations were used to select the participants.

The camp will be June 18 through July 29 on the Lawrence, Kansas campus.

Through lectures, laboratory work and extensive study, each student will gain an insight into modern scientific methods as well as training in depth in two areas of science of his own choosing.

The first week of the six-week session will be spent in a general survey of eight scientific areas including Sociology, Microbiology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, Physiology, Radiation Biophysics and Botany.

The student will then choose two scientific areas in which he will concentrate for the rest of the session.

Running concurrently with the Science and Mathematics camp will be the 30th season of the Midwestern Music and Art Camp with students coming from most of the states of the union and abroad.

Charles has also been selected as alternate to summer programs at Mississippi University, SMU and the University of Florida.

At Yoe High School he is a sports enthusiast; he is a member of the football team, participates in other school-related sports, and is catcher for the Cameron Cardinals. He is also a member of the National Honor Society, the Latin Club, the American Heritage and Slide Rule Club.

He is the son of Milam County Treasurer Charles "Bubba" Maddox and Mrs. Maddox.

AGENT'S COUNTY NOTES

—By—

J. D. MOORE

By J. D. Moore

A county wide meeting is set for May 2, beginning at 2 p.m., at the Ideal Poultry Farm half-way between Cameron and Buckholts. The group will meet at the farm tank on the south side of the highway at the Poultry Farm entrance. Wallace Klusmann, specialist in Wildlife Conservation from A&M, will discuss construction, stocking, fertilization, weed control and rough fish control. Tank owners are asked to bring weed samples from their tanks in a jar of water for identification.

Weed control demonstrations have been set up by the county agents using 2,4-D, Silvex, Endothal, Bluestone, Dow Pon and Karmex. Small areas around the tank have been treated with these chemicals to demonstrate their effects.

Fishing is one of the most popular forms of outdoor recreation in the United States. Surveys show that a fisherman will spend large sums of money and travel far to enjoy his sport, regardless of the number of fish he catches. A properly managed farm tank can provide excellent fishing at home at a reasonable cost, furnish domestic water in addition to the recreational aspect.

Lake Patrol Will Add Cadet Wardens

AUSTIN — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department announced plans to add fifty cadet wardens to serve with the new water safety patrol.

Robert G. Mauermann, Deputy Executive Director, said the extra crew will be in addition to the expanded personnel specially trained and outfitted for last year's initial services under the 1965 state act designated to safeguard mushrooming water sports trade.

He said the cadet wardens will be drilled in safety basics and will be ready for duty for the summer rush.

The apprentices judged to be qualified on the basis of their summer activities will be eligible to take the regular warden career courses next fall.

Mauermann said applicants for the cadet training must be between 21-40 years of age, have good moral character, a high school education or equivalent, be in good physical condition with a minimum 20-40 correctable to 20-20 vision, a minimum of five feet eight inches of height with proportionate weight between two and three pounds per inch of height, one-year residency in Texas, a U. S. citizen, and pass a written and oral examination. Qualified men should contact the nearest office of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for detailed information.

Delegation Protests Cotton Loan Cuts, Proposes Program

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Olbrich of Route 1, Burlington, joined a flying delegation of 90 cotton producers representing Texas and Oklahoma in Washington last week to present a Texas Farmers Union cotton program to Congress and USDA.

The delegation urged support for (1) a cotton stamp program for needy families similar to the food-stamp plan; (2) increased payments, including diverted acres, to the highest levels within the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture; (3) continued strong support for price support loan program and the Form G loan program; (4) CCC sales policy to permit the current cotton crop to move more directly into cotton marketing channels; (5) elimination of skip-row penalties; and (7) a USDA study of cotton imports.

The group also protested the new cotton loan rates recently announced that cut prices of staple length grades grown in Central Texas by $5 to $10 a bale.

McLeod To Conduct Presbyterian Service

James Angus McLeod, second-year student at the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Austin, will be guest pastor at the First Presbyterian Church, Cameron, on Sunday, April 30.

McLeod attended Texas A&M and received a bachelor of arts degree from Austin College, Sherman. In college, he was a member of Sigma Tau Epsilon social fraternity, Eta Sigma Phi honorary classical languages fraternity, the International Relations Club and the Student Council. He was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and was on the Dean's List. He was president of the Westminster Fellowship.

Formerly a student pastor at Dodd City Presbyterian Church, McLeod was the student assistant minister at the Kilgore Presbyterian Church during the summer of 1966.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, McAllen, and is studying under care of the South Texas Synod.

He is married to the former Mary Catherine Cloud of Itasca.

CORN STARCH IN PLASTICS

Scientists in USDA's Agricultural Research Service have made experimental foam by adding up to 40 pounds of powdered corn starch per 100 pounds of other ingredients in formula for rigid urethane foam. The corn starch makes the foamed plastic cheaper and more fire resistant.

CANCELS USE OF ENDRIN

Dr. Harry Hays, Director of Pesticides Regulation Division of USDA's Agriculture Research Service, said cancellation of use of Endrin products on melons became necessary when recently developed detection procedures showed that residues may be left on melon crops when endrin is used as directed.

Allowances For Children Give Good Common Sense Training

COLLEGE STATION

Giving children allowances may be an investment in common sense training, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The youngsters not only get a feeling of sharing in the family income, but an allowance gives them some practical lessons in handling money—and they will be doing that all their lives, Mrs. Meyer explained.

Many child guidance experts recommend starting a child's allowance fairly young, around five or six years old. It doesn't have to be a large amount. Ten or fifteen cents a week will meet their small requirements.

Once the precedent is established, of course, you've got to stay with it and the obligation grows with the kids. At the age of ten, for example, allowances may range from 50 cents to a dollar a week. When the youngsters become teens, the range goes higher—from two dollars upward, depending upon how much of their personal expenses are the responsibility of the children.

Many parents let their children take over things like scout club dues, church contributions, haircuts, school supplies, and similar fixed expenses.

Every child has his own pace, Mrs. Meyer points out. But don't be surprised to find your youngsters planning, saving, and making consumer choices. These are basic money management tools and this is where your initial decision to let them handle smaller amounts really begins to make sense.

New Tax Bill Goes Thru Legislature

AUSTIN

By Vern Sanford

Legislature showed signs of quick response to the request by Gov. John Connally to postpone writing a tax bill until next year and to adopt a state governmental budget for only half the fiscal biennium.

Both House and Senate budget-writing committees will scrap their biennial appropriations measures and have one-year bills ready for action this week.

In an unusual night speech to a joint session of the House and Senate, Connally pledged to call a special session next year to pass a 1969 appropriations bill and consider necessary new taxes. Overall purpose was to break legislative logjams on major legislation.

State financial picture appears to be this: Under the one-year budget plan, about $137,000,000 in additional spending can be done in the year starting next September 1 out of the general revenue fund. Because in past years the estimates of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert have been conservative, there generally is a surplus left at the end of each year. Connally thinks a surplus of $50-60,000,000 might be in sight a year from now. Thus the size of the tax bill to be passed could be that much less than it would have to be if it were passed now.

This $50,000,000 or so would not actually be "saving," since Connally expects the Legislature to spend the same amount on two one-year budgets as on one two-year budget. However, the Governor figures that if business growth continues to gain, revenues from present taxes will bring in more than had been expected, and thus make it possible to get by with a smaller tax increase.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, after initial doubts on wisdom of the procedure, urged the Senate Finance Committee to go along. Smith cautioned the legislators not to take the new financial procedure as an invitation to spend more freely and to clear up any legal questions at an early date.

Lieutenant governor, who contends that no new taxes are necessary, viewed Connally's proposal as "at least partial recognition that our financial salvation does not necessarily and exclusively lie in passing a big tax bill at this time."

COMMUNITY CENTERS — Bill by Rep. Billy H. Williamson of Tyler to make more cities in Texas eligible for grants-in-aid for community mental health centers has passed both House and Senate.

State now may make such grants-in-aid to cities of 100,000 or more population. This bill would lower that minimum to 75,000. It would allow grants-in-aid to a center serving less than 75,000 population, if the state commissioner of mental health and mental retardation declares it eligible.

EDUCATION — House of Representatives passed two measures of the education package sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

One would allow some college-educated persons who did not take all the required education courses in college to qualify as teachers.

Other would allow persons already knowledgeable in American history procedure to meet criticism of law enforcement officers is being speeded to House floor by Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

Major changes deal with warnings of rights of accused by judges arrests of suspicious persons without warrants notice of pre-trial hearings; sentencing procedures; and requirement that witnesses to crime identify themselves at request of a police officer. Committee voted down effort to allow greater freedom in use of oral confessions in trials.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held he could not approve bonds supported by Trinity River Authority tax of 15 cents on $100 valuation as proposed in Senate bill amendment because notice of intent to introduce measure was not published locally as required by constitution.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—A sheriff is authorized to release a prisoner "laying out" his fine in jail after he satisfies sentence and court costs at the rate of $5 a day.

—State Building Commission can enter a contract prior to September 1 for a liquor tax collection station at Cordova Crossing El Paso, although construction will begin before transfer of site to the U. S. under the Chamizal agreement.

—Texas Water Rights Commission is not barred from canceling unused water permit for five years following public hearing where permittees ask partial cancellation without hearing.

—Counties can purchase insurance from any licensed company on public buildings and contents provided agreement does not involve lending of county credit or granting public money, taking membership in or becoming stockholder in insurance firm.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court agreed, on divided decision, that an Edinburg woman is entitled to $17,000 collected on winning Mexican national lottery ticket she purchased jointly with a neighbor.

Court rejected appeal of a Bryan man from lower court orders that he must clean up conditions at his egg and chicken farm if he wants to keep operating it within city limits.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld two rulings of James O. Gerst, state savings and loan commissioner, refusing applications for savings firm offices in La Grange. Opinion noted there are 46 banks and eight savings and loan associations in surrounding counties, including eight banks in Fayette County alone.

SAFETY BILL — An occupational safety bill, subject of bitter controversy and deadlocks in past legislative sessions, was passed by the House 143-0. A compromise version was hammered out after usual friction over terms developed. Senate passage is likely.

Bill calls for Division of Occupational Safety in State Department of health, with three-member board to formulate standards. A safety engineer would inventory all industrial accidents and advise the board on needed rules.

inal law enforcement officers is being speeded to House floor by Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I was standing by my mail box out here on the road alongside this Johnson cross farm the other morning waiting for the mail carrier. I don't know about city people, but there's one thing us people in the country can depend on—that's the arrival of the mail man without fail six days a week, practically always on the dot except on the days he's overburdened with a lot of free circulars and soap samples—and sure enough he wheeled into sight and pulled up and while he didn't have any mail for me he handed me a newspaper he said he was through with and I thanked him and came on back to the house and looked it over.

An article that caught my eye at once was one reporting the Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, has suggested that the Post Office Department be taken over by a government corporation managed by experts. He figured that if the post office is run like a big industrial outfit, with no politics involved and modern techniques installed, the service would improve and the department would stop losing so much money.

Of course, what it would then cost to mail a letter or a package wasn't mentioned.

Maybe the post office department should be put on a paying basis, but if it was, somebody would come along and suggest that Congress be put on a paying basis, and you know what all would then break loose.

There are some things in life you just don't expect to show a financial profit, like the post office, Congress, the highways, the penitentiary, the state legislature, the chamber of commerce, Boy Scouts, the P.T.A., foreign aid, marriage etc.

In fact, while I guess the post office department could be improved, I have always considered it somewhat like farming. They're both public service institutions and you're not supposed to make a profit from either.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

What Others Say . . .

A Great National Leader

Postwar Western Europe was marked by the rise to power of three extraordinary national leaders, each of whom was outstanding for his skill in statecraft, his unbending patriotism, his remarkable success in leading his land up out of the myriad problems left by the war. These were France's Charles de Gaulle, Italy's Alcide de Gasperi and West Germany's Konrad Adenauer.

Of the three, none faced harder or more complex issues than Konrad Adenauer, who, in 1949, took over the chancellorship of a nation riven in twain, universally execrated for its grisly misdeeds, economically flattened by the wheels of war, under foreign occupation, and with most of its leadership discredited.

Yet through the force of his character, the world's recognition of his steadfast anti-Nazihood, his ability to convince the Western world (particularly the United States) that Germany must be helped to play a constructive, peaceful role in a melding Europe, Konrad Adenauer led West Germany with amazing swiftness to a degree of recovery which became known as "the German economic wonder." When he stepped down from the chancellorship in 1963 in his 88th year, he left a land which, while still beset with many great problems, had nonetheless once again become one of the world's mightiest and wealthiest economic powers, which was a forward looking leader in the search for European integration, and which was winning back a considerable measure of the trust which it had lost in the Hitler years from 1933 to 1945.

One of the oldest and most cherished German legends is that, at the time of Germany's greatest need, the 12th Century Emperor known as Barbarossa would reappear and save the Fatherland. In the future legend might well substitute Konrad Adenauer for Barbarossa.

of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

VII Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for broadcasts to thousands in the critical area.

Review Of Tornado Safety Rules Urged By Public Safety Director

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urges Texans to review tornado safety precautions. "While tornadoes can occur any time of the year," Garrison said, "April, May, and June are the peak months."

U. S. Weather Bureau records indicate that Texas leads the nation in total number of tornadoes per year. The annual average of 80.7 is based on a record of 1,210 confirmed tornadoes from 1951 thru 1965.

"It is especially important for every school, church, hospital, hotel, business house, and industry to establish an emergency plan," Garrison said. "To know what to do when a tornado is approaching may mean the difference between life and death."

These are rules for tornado safety:

I If you are near a tornado cellar: When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris;

II If you are in open country: Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.

III If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

IV If in a city or town: 1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. Stay away from windows!

2. In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

IV If in schools: 1. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. Avoid auditoriums and gyms with large, poorly-supported roofs!

2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

V If in factories and industrial plants: On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

VI Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path

ROMANCE... AND A BENT STRAW

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When you're in high school and going steady, two can often live as cheaply as one. But who's thinking of economics?

What is important is that when Karen and Dave want to look into each other's eyes — while sharing a milkshake — something just has to give, Karen's straw, of course!

Through the dreamy days of this budding romance they've been learning that lesson over and over. They know how to adjust to each other's moods... and cares... and ambitions... and hopes.

Have they learned the greater lesson — the one that is taught in our churches, and in those homes where religion is real? Have they learned reverence for the spiritual and moral principles on which the sacred institution of marriage rests?

Fleeting romances can endure for a while on bent straws. But honest, blossoming, maturing love demands of a boy and girl convictions that do not bend.

April Is Citrus Value Time

Come spring, a gal's mirror often reflects the need for a little calorie counting. Losing pounds needn't be a chore when you discover how many foods are not only low in calories but good tasting and good for you. High on the list are juicy Florida citrus fruits — oranges and grapefruit.

April is Florida citrus value time. Richly-flavored oranges and plump pink and white grapefruit offer healthful eating at low prices, so it makes good "cents" to enjoy them at least once every day. Both oranges and grapefruit are listed as plentiful foods by the U.S. Department of Agriculture this month.

Luscious Valencia orange slices and juicy grapefruit sections combine with shrimp and cottage cheese for a colorful, appetizing low-calorie salad. A perfect dressing for this, or any, fruit salad uses frozen Florida orange juice concentrate for tart-sweet, refreshing flavor.

Dressing For Citrus Salad

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup plain yogurt
1 tablespoon honey
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon minced fresh tarragon leaves, or $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon dried tarragon.

In medium size bowl, combine undiluted orange concentrate, yogurt, honey and salt; blend until smooth. Add tarragon; refrigerate at least one hour until flavors blend. Pour 1 tablespoon per serving over salad.

YIELD: $\frac{1}{2}$ cup.

Poage Proposes Quality Cotton In Free Market

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage of Texas, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, U. S. House of Representatives, said here today "the ultimate solution to cotton's problems is a free market for cotton, combined with a direct payment program that protects the income of cotton producers."

"A free market and superior quality cotton will win the 'battle of the fibers' in the United States and recapture at least some of our world trade in cotton," he declared.

For the short run, he said, "a way must be found - and this must be done quickly - to stop the flooding of American textile markets with cheap cotton goods manufactured abroad with low-wage labor and from low priced fibers."

The Congressional farm leader addressed the convention here of the Atlantic Cotton Association, an organization of cotton merchants.

"I think the greatest contribution you merchants can make right now," he said, "is to preach the gospel of quality in the production of cotton. The 'battle of the fibers' is a struggle for supremacy between nature's fiber - cotton - and the test tube fibers - synthetics. Textile manufacturers have tended in recent years toward the high priced synthetics largely because these fibers, with made-to-order staple lengths, and tensile strength, run easier through their machines. But consumer preference is forcing the trend back to cotton. You will notice that the blends in finished goods on the retail shelves are becoming more cotton and less synthetics."

"You will notice also that high quality cotton, of 1 1/4-1 1/2 inch and better, with strength and uniformity, is in great demand at the mills. I've heard of this cotton selling at 32 cents a pound, with average quality cotton bringing 6 or 7 cents less."

"We have consumer preference definitely on our side. When we can produce all the qualities of cotton the mills can use, the 'battle of the fibers' definitely will have turned our way."

Mr. Poage added:

"Of course I do not expect that the synthetic fibers will be put out of business - there always will be special uses for such fibers, maybe for ropes and fishing lines, but for clothing, bedding or any use where contact is made with the human body. I doubt if synthetics ever can match cotton. Test tube fibers simply have not found a way to 'breathe', and body comfort requires this, and many other fiber uses necessitate absorbent qualities that synthetics do not possess."

"Synthetics have some built-in properties, to keep creases in pants and such as that. But last fall I saw the work of our West Texas and California sciences give blended fabric such properties, while keeping cotton's absorbent qualities."

Mr. Poage reminded the merchants that for a number of years he has advocated that the government loan on cotton be abandoned, that our cotton sell in the United States and abroad at what the market will pay - in a free market, and that the Government protect the producers' income with supplemental price payments.

"I don't know how long this will be in coming," he said, "but this is the only way we shall ever be fully competitive in the world cotton markets."

"For three decades now," he said, "the United States has been the world's residual supplier of cotton - that is we move our export cotton into whatever part of the world market is left after all other cotton producing countries have moved all the cotton they have to sell."

"This residual status has come near to destroying our world market, and I must remind you that the export of cotton and tobacco first established the financial integrity of the young United States of America among the nations of the world."

"The cotton loan, which has been used since the 1930's to support the prices received by cotton farmers, has in effect set the world price of cotton. Other cotton-producing nations simply have fixed their export price at a cent or two below our set loan price in the United States and thus have taken over the world markets, leaving us only the markets they cannot fill."

"In 1933, before we had a cotton program, the U. S. exported 3,000,000 bales of cotton. This was 29 percent of the world production of cotton. We dominated the world market. In 1966, we exported only 3,000,000 bales of cotton. This was only 6 percent of world production. This year we hope to export 5,000,000 bales, about 10.5 percent of world production."

"I am saying here that we are entitled to a greater portion of the world market, and we should go after it.... that the only way to do it is to get rid of the loan, maintain reasonable production restraints, protect our producers with the price supplement payment, and place all-out emphasis upon the production of quality cotton."

Poage interposed in his address to the cotton merchants a brief discussion of current conditions in agriculture generally, and he assailed the widening spread between farm prices and retail food costs as "burdensome upon and unfair to farmers and consumers alike."

"Farm prices in February were down by 8 percent compared with last August, but retail food costs had declined by a little more than 1 percent," he said. "The price of steers in Chicago have declined by 16 percent, but a rib roast at the retail counter is down only about 1 percent and round steak down only 2 percent. Farm prices in March were 10 percent below what they were in March of 1947, while retail food prices over these 20 years have advanced by more than one-third."

"As farm prices have dropped sharply in the last seven months, retail food prices have not followed farm prices down, to any appreciable extent; and I fear the retail trade will take advantage of any recovery in farm prices to run consumer food prices up even higher, although they didn't drop these prices as farm prices went down."

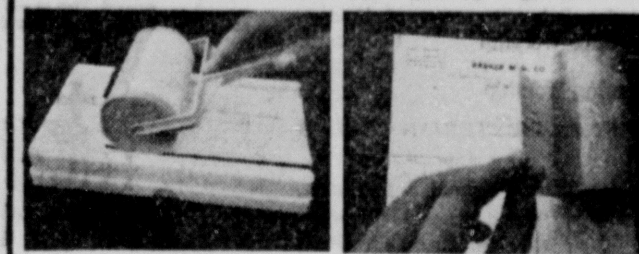

"I regret," he said, "that this did not happen. Instead of going ing off. The mills are catching up on unfilled orders, and the compe-manufactured cotton goods went up. Increasing demand for cotton goods, we were told, kept the prices up. But now, I understand, the costs of textile goods are eas-down with the price of cotton, titution of foreign cotton goods, made with cheap labor, is getting stiffer and stiffer. Something's got to be done about this. I'll not try to offer any suggestion on a solution here, except I will say that the cotton producing and merchandising interests cannot afford to sit idle while the stability of textile markets in our own country is wrecked by such unfair competition."

Gas is as modern as the supersonic SST it may one day propel.

It's still a little early to reserve a seat, but the Mach 3 transport is just around the corner. And when you're winging off to Calcutta at over 2000 mph, liquid natural gas may be the fuel. It's superior to kerosene type JP fuels in many ways, and reduces operating costs about 30%. One more reason why gas is today's energy source for tomorrow's energy needs. Right for the SST... safe, clean gas energy is right for your home.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Carp are like rabbits, only more so. One pair and there is a population explosion.

Proof of this was evident following introduction of the carp from Germany, back in 1872. A Californian visiting across the Atlantic thought they were great. He headed back to America with 83, but only five survived the trip. He planted these in a private pond.
 They multiplied so rapidly that within five years he was selling carp throughout the world... including Texas.

Now Texas officially would like to get rid of all of them. In fact, thousands of dollars of rotenone and thousands of manhours have gone into chemically treating impoundments to rid them of the fast multiplying carp.

Today carp are known to have practically taken over some areas.

Where they are so prevalent and conditions permit, total kills are done by the biologists. By killing everything in the lake and replanting with game fish, biologists are able to build back the fishing potential of the reservoirs.

Carp literally infest practically every lake and stream in Texas.
 Fishermen can't begin to make a dent in their population.

Occasionally carp will hit lures.
 But more often when caught on a lure, they are merely snagged. A snagged carp pulls hard and for a while the fisherman thinks he has a real lunker.

of most fishing barns.

Fishing in these barns, or off a dock over the water, usually is productive of more than just carp.

For this reason, most fishermen use two hooks, with a heavy lead sinker on the terminal. One hook is baited with dough bait. The other perhaps will have a minnow or a worm.

In this way it is possible to catch any of the sport fish such as bass, crappie or cats.

I've seen fishermen put their line into the water in one of these barn wells, lean back in an easy chair and take a nap. Finally someone will awaken them with the announcement that they have a fish.

 On occasions they may have two,
 and a real fight on their hands.

Most of the fish caught in this manner are in the one to two-pound class. Occasionally, however, someone will haul in a monster.

Rugs And Carpets
Last Longer With Regular Cleaning

The beauty and durability of rugs and carpets depend on their basic structure and regular care explains
Mrs. Laura Russell, area Extension specialist in housing and home furnishings.

Dirt is the greatest enemy of rugs and carpets. Fortunately, most of it can be removed by home methods as long as it remains on or near the surface.
However, when the dirt has worked down into the pile, professional carpet cleaners are necessary.

A daily once-over lightly with the vacuum cleaner, using a round three strokes over each area, will remove loose dirt, lint, and litter.
Thorough vacuuming at least once (preferably twice) a week not only brushes and freshens carpets and rugs, but prevents the dirt from sifting into the pile. When dirt filters down, it chaps and cuts the pile and backing. Seven strokes over each area should prevent this, Mrs. Russell says. You cannot over-vacuum your carpets, she adds.
